

The Picture of Dorian Gray

by

Oscar Wilde

THE PREFACE

- The artist is the creator of beautiful things.
- There is no such thing as a moral or an immoral book. Books are well written, or badly written. That is all.
- No artist has ethical sympathies.

- The artist can express everything.
- Vice and virtue are to the artist materials for an art.
- All art is quite useless. ← 