

PAST PERFECT

When I saw her, she had just left
her boyfriend.

at 7:30

When I saw her, she had just left
her boyfriend.

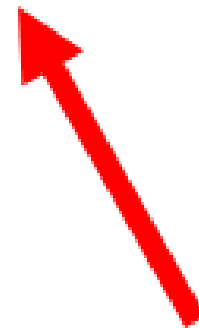

at 7:15

When the police arrived, the
thieves had run away.

at 11

When the police arrived, the
thieves had run away.

at 10.55

I was sure you had spoken to him.

I have just spoken with her.

I have already spoken with her.

They have just arrived.

They have already arrived.

(and NOT "~~they are arrived~~")

I had just spoken with her.

I had already spoken with her.

They had just arrived.

They had already arrived.

(and NOT "they ~~were arrived~~")

Have you spoken with her yet?

Have they arrived yet?

Had you spoken with her yet?

Had they arrived yet?

I haven't spoken with her yet.

or:

I still haven't spoken with her.

They haven't arrived yet.

or:

They still haven't arrived.

I hadn't spoken with her yet.

or:

I still hadn't spoken with her.

They hadn't arrived yet.

or:

They still hadn't arrived.

PAST PERFECT

"Identity B2"

p. 154, parag. A